C (VII)	Description of the method and significant assumptions used during the year to estimate the fair value of options including the following information:
	a) The weighted average values of share prices, exercise price, expected volatility, expected option life, expected dividends, the risk free interest rate and any other inputs to the model.	Share price-Rs. 136.10 Exercise price-Rs. 100.00 Expected volatility- 41.95 Expected option Life- 5.01 Expected dividend yield- 1.21% Risk free interest rate- 7.83%
	b) The method used and the assumptions made to incorporate the effects of expected early exercise.	Expected Life of options is the period for which the Company expects the options to be live. The minimum life of a stock option is the minimum period before which the options cannot be exercised and the maximum life is the period after which the options cannot be exercised. Average of minimum and maximum life has been taken to arrive at Expected life.

	c) How expected volatility was determined, including an explanation of the extent to which expected volatility was based on historical volatility.	Each vest has been considered as separate grant. Accordingly, the volatility for periods corresponding to the expected time of different vests prior to the grant date has been considered.
	d) Whether and how any other features of the option grant were incorporated into the measurement of fair value, such as a market condition.	Expected dividend yield has been calculated based on the last declared dividend prior to the date of grant considering that the last paid dividend is the best estimate of dividend likely to be declared in the future years. Risk-free interest rate being considered for the calculation is the interest rate applicable for maturity equal to the expected life of the options based on the zero-yield curve for Government Securities. Stock price of the Company considered is the closing market price of the Company's equity share on the date of grant, on National Stock Exchange (NSE).
