HMD plans to make India its manufacturing hub

SURAJEET DAS GUPTA
New Delhi, 2 May

Finland phone manufacturer Human Mobile Devices (HMD Global), which acquired the Nokia brand name from Microsoft, is planning to make India a key manufacturing hub for its phone exports.

The company only began exporting late last year with the Nokia 105 Classic. What started mainly with feature phones will now extend to smartphones – it announced the global launch of models under the HMD brand for the first time a few days ago and these will be available in India too.

Nokia was the first mobile brand which was exported from India from its own manufacturing plant in Tamil Nadu. But the brand, which once ruled the Indian mobile market with an 80 per cent market share in 2010, had to close down its plant in 2014.

Ravi Kanwar, vice-president, India & APAC of HMD Global, explained the strategy, saying that six months after HMD began exports, it had notched up six million phones, mostly feature phones.

“Our aim is to have India as a manufacturing hub for exports. And we will also do smartphones once the products are launched across the world. Currently, we are exporting from India to Africa and the Middle East but the scope will only expand,” said Kanwar.

EXPORT STRATEGY

- Started exporting from India late last year
- Exported 6 million phones to Africa and West Asia in the last six months
- India is its largest market but it also has a share in Kenya, Australia, China, Europe, and the US
- Will export HMD smartphones, also from India
- Assembles most of its phones sold in the domestic market from India; Dixon Technologies (India) is its largest EMS partner

The company can leverage the fact that India is also its largest market for its mobile phones, primarily because of the value leadership in the features phone market where it is at the top of the table. In terms of volumes, though, its competitor Transsion is ahead.

In 2023, HMD had a 14.9 per cent share of the feature phone market in India. Following the launch of HMD smartphones, it expects to gain a larger share of the overall Indian market too. Currently, its share in smartphones is a minuscule 0.4 per cent.

Kanwar said that nearly 100 per cent of its phones are made in India through its EMS partners. The largest contract manufacturers are Dixon Technologies (India) and Lava. He said the two partners were chosen because they are eligible under the Production Linked Incentive scheme for mobile devices which makes exports attractive.

HMD is also bringing mobile devices under its ‘house of brands’ strategy which entails deep tie-ups with other consumer brands. For instance, it is planning to bring the ‘Barbie’ feature flip phone to India through a tie-up with Mattel in the second or third quarter of this year.

The phone is aimed at young women professionals looking for a second phone for the weekends; it is not connected to the internet and you can only SMS.

“It’s a lifestyle phone for young female professionals and meant for users to detox on weekends. It’s a basic phone but a lifestyle and fashion product. The brand persona of the phone is Emily (the supporting character in the film Barbie) but in India, it will have a local version,” said Kanwar.

Byju’s may pay April salary to employees this week

Links sales staff salaries with revenue generated every week

PEERZADA ABRAR
Bengaluru, 2 May

Cash-strapped edtech firm Byju’s is likely to pay its employees the April salaries this week, according to sources. The company is grappling with the issue of delays in paying salaries to employees.

“There has been a delay in salary. It is expected to be now paid sometime this week,” said a person.

Last month, Byju Raveendran, the founder and chief executive of Byju’s, secured a private debt of about ₹30 crore to pay the March salaries of employees.

The delay stems from funds raised through a recent rights issue, which have been locked in a ‘separate account’ due to the ongoing dispute with the investors.

Byju’s has about 15,000 employees, and the total salary burn for the company ranges between ₹40 and 50 crore, according to sources.

Byju’s has implemented a new policy linking sales staff’s salaries to the revenue they generate every week. According to a copy of an internal document reviewed by Business Standard, Byju’s will now directly pay a percentage of the weekly revenue generated by each sales staff at the end of the seven days.

The policy, introduced in the company on April 24, would be applicable for 4 weeks to 21st May, 2024.

The policy applies to the Inside Sales (IS) and Byju’s Exam Prep (BEP) teams. These teams largely focus on generating revenue for Byju’s. “Starting immediately, 50 per cent of the upfront weekly collection will be directly disbursed to our sales associates every week for the next four weeks. For instance, if an associate successfully collects ₹50,000 in revenue generated from orders between April 24th and April 30th, they will receive ₹25,000 on May 1st,” said the document. The document said that the base salaries for sales team associates will be ‘suspended temporarily’ during this period.

IndiGo gives 45-day bonus to staff

DEEPAK PATEL
New Delhi, 2 May

Country’s largest airline IndiGo on Thursday announced a one-time bonus equivalent to 45-day basic salary to all its employees, citing solid performance since the latter half of 2022 and achieving “net worth positive” status in February.

“We are pleased to announce a one-time special bonus to reward each colleague. This Thank You Bonus shall amount to 1.5 months’ basic salary. This amount will be disbursed along with May, 2024, salary as an ex-gratia,” IndiGo said in a message to its employees.

In the first quarter of 2023-24, the airline posted its highest-ever consolidated net profit of ₹3,090.6 crore.

Its consolidated net profit in the second and third quarters stood at ₹188.1 crore and ₹2,998.1 crore.

It is yet to announce its fourth quarter results.

According to Elara Capital, the airline is expected to post an adjusted profit of ₹2,060 crore in the fourth quarter of 2023-24.

In the message to employees, the airline said, “The losses incurred during Covid had a very significant impact and washed away profits of the years before. We started our path to recovery in the second half of the year 2022 and since then we demonstrated a solid and strong performance...”

DOMESTIC SALES OF 4 MAJOR 2W MAKERS ZOOM IN APRIL

Domestic sales for four major two-wheeler manufacturers, Hero MotoCorp, Honda Motorcycle & Scooter India, TVS Motor Company, and Bajaj Auto, saw a double-digit growth in April compared to the corresponding month last year, driven by high demand. These four companies collectively dominate approximately 80 per cent of the total two-wheeler market in the country.

Their volume sales growth in April stands in stark contrast to that of passenger vehicle makers, who experienced a modest growth of less than two percent during the same month. Hero MotoCorp, India’s largest two-wheeler maker, saw its domestic sales jump by 32.9 per cent year-on-year (YoY) to 513,296 units in April.

Honda Motorcycle & Scooter India saw its domestic sales rise by 42.2 per cent YoY to 4,81,046 units in April.

Girish Mathrubootham resigns as Freshworks CEO, takes up new role

SHINE JACOB
Mumbai, 2 May

Girish Mathrubootham has stepped down as the chief executive officer (CEO) of Freshworks to become the executive chairman of the Nasdaq-listed software as a service (SaaS) company.

Dennis Woodside, the company’s president, is the new CEO.

“As I pass the baton to Dennis and move into my new seat as Executive Chairman, I look forward to continuing to serve Freshworks, focusing on our long-term product vision and AI (artificial intelligence), spending more time with our teams in India, and being a trusted advisor to Dennis,” said Mathrubootham.

Mathrubootham founded Freshworks in Chennai in 2010 and has made it a leading SaaS company headquartered in San Mateo, California. Mathrubootham steered Freshworks through an initial public offer (IPO) on Nasdaq in September 2021, making it the first India-born SaaS firm to trade on a US exchange.

Under his leadership, the company has grown to serve more than 67,000 customers globally. It has some 4,900 employees work in 13 global locations, said a company statement.

“When I first proposed this next step to the Freshworks board, we were starting to chart the next phase of our company’s journey. We brought Dennis on board to partner with me on crafting an ambitious growth plan, and my hope was that he could eventually lead the team of talented employees around the world to execute it, which would allow me to spend more time on the long-term product vision, innovation and AI strategy,” said Mathrubootham.

THE PLUNGE

“Dennis has a deep understanding of Freshworks’ business, customers and our employees, and a strong track record of building and scaling large global teams – he is the right leader to become our next CEO. I’m thrilled to announce this transition.”

Woodside joined Freshworks as president in September 2022.

He has “accelerated” Freshworks’ investments in enterprise grade products and increased focus on mid-market and enterprise customers, said the statement. Woodside was previously the chief operating officer of Dropbox, helping the file hosting provider’s revenue grow from $250 million to $1.3 billion and ultimately raising it more than $1 billion in a successful IPO in 2018.

Before that, Woodside held sales and strategy leadership roles at Google from 2003 to 2014, including serving as CEO of Motorola Mobility after Google acquired the company in 2012.
